Sales guide: what to say

The offer in one line: for R2,000 once-off, a business gets a professional website, 15 ready-to-post video Shorts and printable quote & invoice forms with their logo, ready in 7 days. Monthly Shorts after that are optional: R500 for 15 a month or R800 for a full month.

1 Pick the right moment

- Go in when it's quiet: mid-morning or mid-afternoon. Not at lunch, not when there's a queue.
- Ask for the owner or manager. If they're not in, leave a flyer and ask when they'll be back.
- Have the workshop website open on your phone before you walk in.

2 Open (10 seconds)

> "Hi, I'm [your name], I'm with Helpful AV. Are you the owner? I won't keep you, it's one minute."

3 Point out the gap

> "When visitors to Parys search on their phones for a [guesthouse / restaurant / shop], they find the ones with a website first. I noticed you don't have one yet."

Only say this if you've checked. Google the business name first: if it has a proper website already, offer just the video Shorts instead.

4 Show, don't tell

> Hand them your phone. "This is one we built for a workshop in Vereeniging. Customers tap here to book on WhatsApp, here to call, here for directions." Then show one of the sample videos: "And these are the short videos you get to post on Facebook, TikTok and WhatsApp Status."

5 The offer

> "For R2,000 once-off you get a website like this, 15 of these videos about your own business, and printable quotes and invoices with your logo. It's all ready in 7 days. After that, more videos are optional, from R500 a month."

6 Close

> "Would you like it? I just need a few details on this sheet, and Andrew will WhatsApp you to get your logo and photos. You only pay when you're ready to start."

Fill in the Client Info Sheet with them, or leave it with them to fill in. Then take a photo of it and WhatsApp it to Andrew.

7 If they're not sure

> "No problem at all. Let me leave this flyer with you. Scan the code to see everything, and WhatsApp Andrew when you're ready."

Leave the flyer (it already has your code AG01 on it). Don't push and don't go back to nag. Write their name down so Andrew knows you visited.

When they ask...

They ask	You say
"Is there a monthly fee?"	"No, the website is once-off and hosting is included. The monthly videos are optional: R500 for 15 or R800 for a full month, and they can stop any time."
"Who posts the videos?"	"You do, from your phone. You get a calendar of which one to post each day, and a caption for every one."
"Do I need my own web address?"	"It works on a free address straight away. Your own .co.za costs about R100 to R200 a year extra."
"How long does it take?"	"About 7 days after you send your logo, photos and details."
"How do I pay?"	"By EFT or a payment link, straight to Helpful AV, before the work starts."
"I already have a website."	"Then the videos alone could be for you: 15 a month for R500. Andrew can give you a price."
"I already have a Facebook page."	"Perfect, the videos go straight onto it. A website also helps people find you on Google."
"Can I think about it?"	"Of course. Here's the flyer with everything on it, and the number to WhatsApp."
Anything you don't know	"Good question, let me check with Andrew and come back to you." Then WhatsApp me.
